

INTRODUCING...

Eagle's Nest Baptist Ministries

"As an eagle stirs up her nest, flutters over her young, spreads abroad her wings, takes them, bears them on her wings, so the Lord alone did lead him..." Deuteronomy 32:11 -12a

EAGLE'S NEST BAPTIST MINISTRIES will be a resource ministry to fundamental local churches. Housed within its facility will be a boarding school for at-risk teenage boys, a counseling center for burned-out Christian workers, and a retreat and conference center. Also under the umbrella of Eagle's Nest will be a resource center for women in crisis, as well as industrial arts and construction training for missionaries.

EAGLE'S NEST ACADEMY: Raising children in today's world is difficult, and many situations arise that cause parents to seek help for struggling teens. Eagle's Nest will provide a basic traditional Christian education, plus an emphasis on industrial arts training and other hands-on instruction designed to teach character, responsibility, and resourcefulness. Teenage boys in danger of spiritual and moral failure will have their instability challenged with a biblical world view. An individualized plan of instruction for each young man will address his particular needs and goals. These boys will be recommended by solid, Bible-believing churches and their pastors. A program of instruction for the parents of the boys will be established through their local churches to teach biblical family principles.

RETREAT FOR WEARY WORKERS: The spiritual battles that face full-time Christian workers (pastors, missionaries, teachers, etc.) can be intense. Sometimes they need a time away to regroup and receive counsel. Eagle's Nest will be a clean, quiet, comfortable place to rest, renew spiritual and physical strength, and strengthen family bonds. Godly counsel will be available from a strictly biblical perspective to help resolve conflict and determine the will of God for the future. We would like to reward faithful servants of God by not charging for their stay at Eagle's Nest and will be relying on the generosity of God's people to make this aspect of the ministry possible.

TRAINING FOR MISSIONARIES: The most important work of missions is evangelizing and establishing local churches, but a big part of this work is in the realm of the practical. Eagle's Nest, therefore, will provide training in certain areas of practicality: building construction; basic plumbing; automobile maintenance and repair; basic electrical wiring; and resourcefulness—being good stewards of God's money.

WOMEN IN CRISIS: "Daughters of the King" seeks to provide women whose lives have been devastated by abuse a safe place to tell their story and to receive biblical counsel in time of crisis. Darla Steege has been counseling women on such topics for twelve years and is currently volunteering as a domestic abuse advocate. She looks forward to offering women in crisis a shelter of love and a close circle of godly relationships. We also desire to be a resource to pastors and other ministry personnel by equipping them to recognize and deal with issues of sexual abuse and other women's crisis situations. Eagle's Nest will offer counseling services and seminars.

WHAT GOD HAS DONE!

This ministry has come about as a result of a longstanding burden in the hearts of Jonathan and Chrissa Edwards. Because they have seen the need to provide a training ground for future leaders in churches and Christian homes, and because they have seen a high burn-out rate among Christian workers, the Edwards' have had a desire to make a place where these needs can be addressed. The Lord is raising up others who also share the burden and plan to help in the ministry once it is up and running.

The Edwardses are both graduates of Bob Jones University and are 38-year veteran missionaries under Northwest Baptist Missions, Inc. They have been used to plant three Independent Baptist churches in the state of Utah. In 1995, they moved to Marysville, Utah, and founded Marysville Baptist Church, converting the only bar in town into a nice church facility. Chrissa has been teaching Special Education for the local elementary schools for the past several years. They have also been active in providing horses for Camp Utibaca (Utah Independent Baptist Camp). God has richly blessed them with a lovely 200-acre ranch nestled in the shadow of the majestic Tushar Mountains.

Eagle's Nest has been the recipient of about twenty-nine acres donated from the ranch and is situated in a beautiful little valley. In the past six years, 100 donors have contributed about $180,000. This has enabled us to build debt-free. During that same time, more than 160 volunteers have worked well over 8,000 hours. God has sent just the right people with the expertise needed for the part of the building that was under construction at the time. Dozens of women and men, too, have cooked for all the teams.

January 2013—We are well along in the construction process. This 13,000 sq. ft. building is being built completely debt-free thanks to donations from churches and individuals, as well as thousands of hours of volunteer labor.

Our prayer is to be able to finish the downstairs and open the boarding school by fall of 2013. The upstairs will be completed in Phase Two.

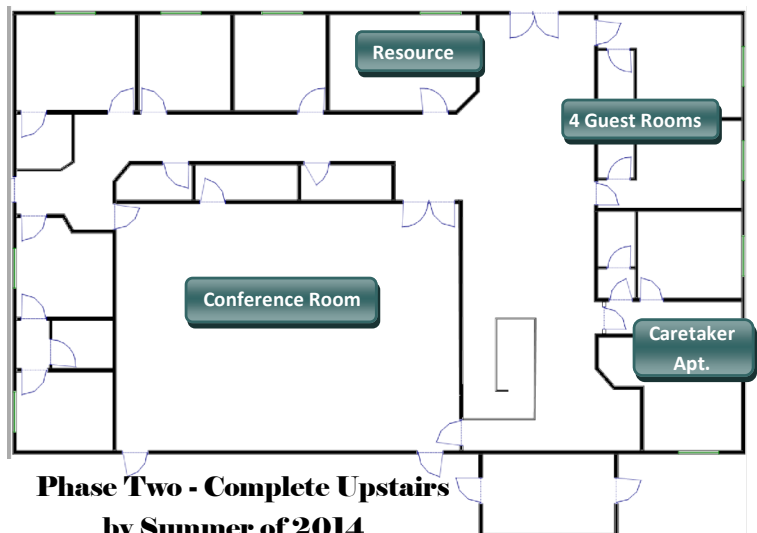

We need more skilled volunteers and more donations in order to finish this facility and begin ministering to hurting people.
